PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy will meet Monday with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the man he vanquished Tuesday in a hard, tight, election.

The two former rivals, who fought each other for months all across the land, both are vacationing in Florida. Kennedy will fly in the morning to Nixon's retreat at Key Biscayne, 10 miles south of Miami.

The purpose of the meeting, said Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, is two-fold: "First, the senator wants to congratulate the Vice President on the campaign he conducted and, second, he wants to resume cordial relations with Vice President Nixon which existed in their 14 years in Congress together."

Each had expressed a willingness to meet in this period following the election. And Saturday night Salinger said, Kennedy called the vice president and suggested getting together Monday.

Flys To Rival
The fact that Kennedy is flying to see Nixon underscored Salinger's emphasis on a resumption of cordial relations. But the press secretary declined to say whether the forthcoming meeting would attempt to establish something of a national government of greater unity, or whether some role for Nixon, perhaps in an advisory capacity, would be discussed.

During the campaign, Kennedy and Nixon traded some pretty harsh language at long range. Kennedy said Nixon had presided over the decline of the national security and the communication of Cuba, for example. Nixon called Kennedy rash, immature, reckless, irresponsible.

But two days after the election, at a news conference at his home at Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy told a questioner he hoped to have a chance to see Nixon before inauguration day, Jan. 20. And as to whether there was a "possibility that you might ask him to serve," the senator replied:

"Well, I would rather talk with him before I would say anything. I think we ought—I don't know what he is planning to do."

Salinger also announced that Kennedy will meet Tuesday with Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and that Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri will arrive Saturday and spend the weekend. Both Ribicoff and Symington have dropped up in speculation for cabinet or other high posts in the Kennedy regime — Ribicoff for attorney general and Symington for secretary of defense.

Commoner To Mary Princess

OSLO, Norway (AP)—King Olav V Sunday night announced the engagement of his daughter Princess Astrid to a commoner, Johan Martin Ferner.

The princess, one of three children of the king and the late Princess Martha of Sweden, is 28. Her sister, Princess Ragnhild, is the wife of Erling Lorentzen, a wealthy shipowner to whom she was married in 1953.

The crown prince is his brother, Harald, 23.

The announcement of the betrothal of Princess Astrid and Ferner came halfway through an official engagement party at the palace for the immediate family and close friends of the couple.

The princess and her husband-to-be met several years ago through the Royal Norwegian Yacht Club, where both are active members.

Ferner, 33, is the junior partner of an Oslo men's outfitting store which was founded by his father.

The engagement has been in the offing for some time and has already created a controversy within the Norwegian church circles.

Renewed Support Given To Diem

By FORREST EDWARDS
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Backers of President Ngo Dinh Diem demonstrated Sunday in support of him and the army after the collapse of a two-day uprising.

It was increasingly evident the rebels had grossly overestimated the degree of resentment to Diem's autocratic rule.

The president, an austere bachelor whose methods of battling Communist subversion and terrorism are among Asia's toughest, emerged stronger than ever after quickly suppressing the revolt within his armed forces, built up with millions of dollars in U. S. aid.

However, the four paratroop battalions who spearheaded the revolt are considered with the marines the cream of the armed forces. They are the troops most frequently used in mopping up operations against Communist-led guerrillas.

Arrest of the top paratroop commanders and the flight of other officers may weaken the paratroopers' effectiveness against the Reds.

Aside from the 500 or so paratroopers and marines who joined the revolt, the military and all but a tiny fraction of the civilian population withheld any tangible support of the uprising.

The rebels surrounded Diem's palace and held the president prisoner inside for 24 hours until they were disarmed Saturday. Had support been widespread, the rebels might have overthrown Diem and established a new government.

Kennedy dined with old friends Saturday night, was up at 8 a.m. Sunday and attended 10 a.m. Mass at St. Edward's Roman Catholic church. Well-wishers nearly mobbed him after the services — although the senator has insisted on not announcing ahead of time where he will worship.

It was Kennedy's first church service since he became president-elect and Msgr. O'Mahoney offered a prayer that Kennedy and officials of his administration may be given keen judgement and be guided in living "right and holy lives to serve God faithfully."

Three Killed In Collision

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP, N. J. (AP) — Three persons were killed and three others injured in a head-on automobile crash 3.6 miles east of Buttzville, N.J., on Route 46, yesterday at 3:50 p.m.

State Police reported the dead were identified as John Lewandowski, 57, of Irvington, N.J., and Howard Hayes, 47, and his wife Mabel, 44, of Oldwick, N.J.

The injured are Adella Wescott, 50, and Alice Farina, 74, both of Scranton; and Mrs. Jeanne Lewandowski, 41, wife of John Lewandowski.

Police said that the car driven by John Lewandowski veered out into the west-bound lane and crashed head-on into the car operated by Howard Hayes. The third car, operated by Adella Wescott, ran into the rear of the Hayes vehicle.

The injured were taken to the Warren Hospital in Phillipsburg, N.J., and were reported in "fair condition."

Sammy Davis, May Britt Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Swedish actress May Britt and Negro performer Sammy Davis Jr. were wed Sunday by a rabbi but the bride had to get up from a sickbed for the rites.

Rabbi William M. Kramer performed the traditional Jewish rites in the Hollywood Hills home of Davis.

As the couple drank out of the ceremonial wine glass and then crushed it, a Frank Sinatra recording of "Making Whoopee" punctuated the solemnity of the service. The record came from a party held at the home of one of Davis' nearby neighbors.

Sinatra was best man and Mrs. George Rhodes, wife of the bridegroom's musical arranger, was matron of honor.

The bride and groom held a formal news conference at the home an hour after the rites.

Davis appeared alone at first. He told waiting newsmen: "May's got intestinal flu and all that jazz."

But soon the bride joined him, carrying the bridal bouquet of white roses.

One photographer said, "Kiss her, Sammy." But Davis demurred: "There are enough haters in the world now waiting for that shot."

But the photographers persisted and finally Davis said: "Let's get the peck on the cheek."

May said the doctor had told her to stay in bed for 48 hours.

"I felt a little rocky during the ceremony," she said, "but the excitement of marrying the man I love kept me on an even keel."

Miss Britt, 26, a 20th Century-Fox contract player, came down with a gastric virus disturbance Sunday morning and had to have a doctor.

Dr. Adrian Weiss advised the new bride she would have to forego an elaborate wedding reception at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Some 300 people, including some of the biggest names in Hollywood, were invited to the reception.

The bride wore a champagne wedding dress with a short veil. It had been designed by 20th Century-Fox designer Kay Nelson.

Ribicoff May Get New Post

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff is expected to resign in the next 30 to 60 days to take a post in the cabinet of President-elect John F. Kennedy, probably that of Attorney General, the Hartford Courant said Sunday.

His resignation would put Lt. Gov. John N. Dempsey of Putnam, the Governor's former executive secretary, into the governor's chair.

From Florida came reports that Ribicoff and Kennedy, both of whom are resting there, will meet in the next few days.

The Governor is expected to be offered the post of Attorney General, and there is every indication that he will accept it, the Courant said in its Monday editions.

Laos Neutralist In Firm Control

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma, who says he will not take any orders that King Savang Vathana may issue under duress, appeared in firm control of this Laotian administrative capital Sunday.

The defection of the government garrison at Luang Prabang, where the king lives, to the rightist rebel Friday of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan apparently posed no immediate threat to this city, 130 miles to the south.

Louisiana Assembly Makes Bid To Halt Integration

Votes Take-Over Of School Board

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana Legislature voted overwhelmingly Sunday night to take over the New Orleans School Board in an effort to halt integration, but the school board there voted to open the schools Monday as usual.

Lloyd F. Rittiner, president of the embattled Orleans Parish School Board, made the announcement about school opening as the Senate approved three concurrent resolutions.

There was little opposition as Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' leaders guided the segregationist program through the House and Senate.

The key measure, calling for legislative operation of the New Orleans public schools, won 24-12 passage in the Senate and after 87-14 approval in the house.

Under the resolution, the entire 140-member legislature was put in control of the $100 million New Orleans public school system which serves 95,000 students.

Capsule Release Delayed

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force announced Sunday that it will wait another day before releasing a capsule from Discoverer XVII, the military spy satellite now circling the earth.

This change in plans means that an attempt will be made by air and sea forces near Hawaii to recover the 300-pound capsule Monday, instead of Sunday, after it is dropped.

Discoverer XVII was launched successfully Saturday into a polar orbit and is streaking around the globe once every 96.45 minutes.

"Communications with the satellite have been good," reported Maj. Gen. O. J. Rittland of the Air Force Ballistic Missiles Division. "The vehicle is performing satisfactorily."

"Therefore, after the 13th pass the decision was made to extend the duration of the test. This is our first attempt to keep a capsule aloft for more than 17 passes, which usually span 26 to 27 hours before recovery."

"We intend to keep it in orbit for another day and then attempt recovery on the 31st pass."

The new satellite is the first in a series of military spy vehicles which will be capable of changing course if threatened.

The contents of the satellite and its capsule have not been disclosed. But it is known that future satellites of this type, Agena B, have been designed to carry television cameras and send surveillance films back to the United States.

Many Pledge Loyalty At Cuban Rally

HAVANA (AP)—Some hundreds from Cuba's professional and technical ranks pledged their services to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary program at a rally of perhaps 7,000 persons early Sunday.

The turnout was small in relation to the intensity of the government's week-long campaign for a mass display of loyalty at Havana University in hopes of halting the flight of trained manpower abroad. Many of the rally appeared to be nonprofessionals.

In a three-point pledge the crowd promised to "remain forever faithful to the fatherland," to devote all their energies to the development of Cuba and to "defend national sovereignty in the face of whatever enemy."

The crowd shouted "we swear" to each point as it was read out by a civilian militiaman.

In a brief speech, President Osvaldo Dorticos repeated charges that the United States is trying to subvert the revolution by bribing away professional and technical men.

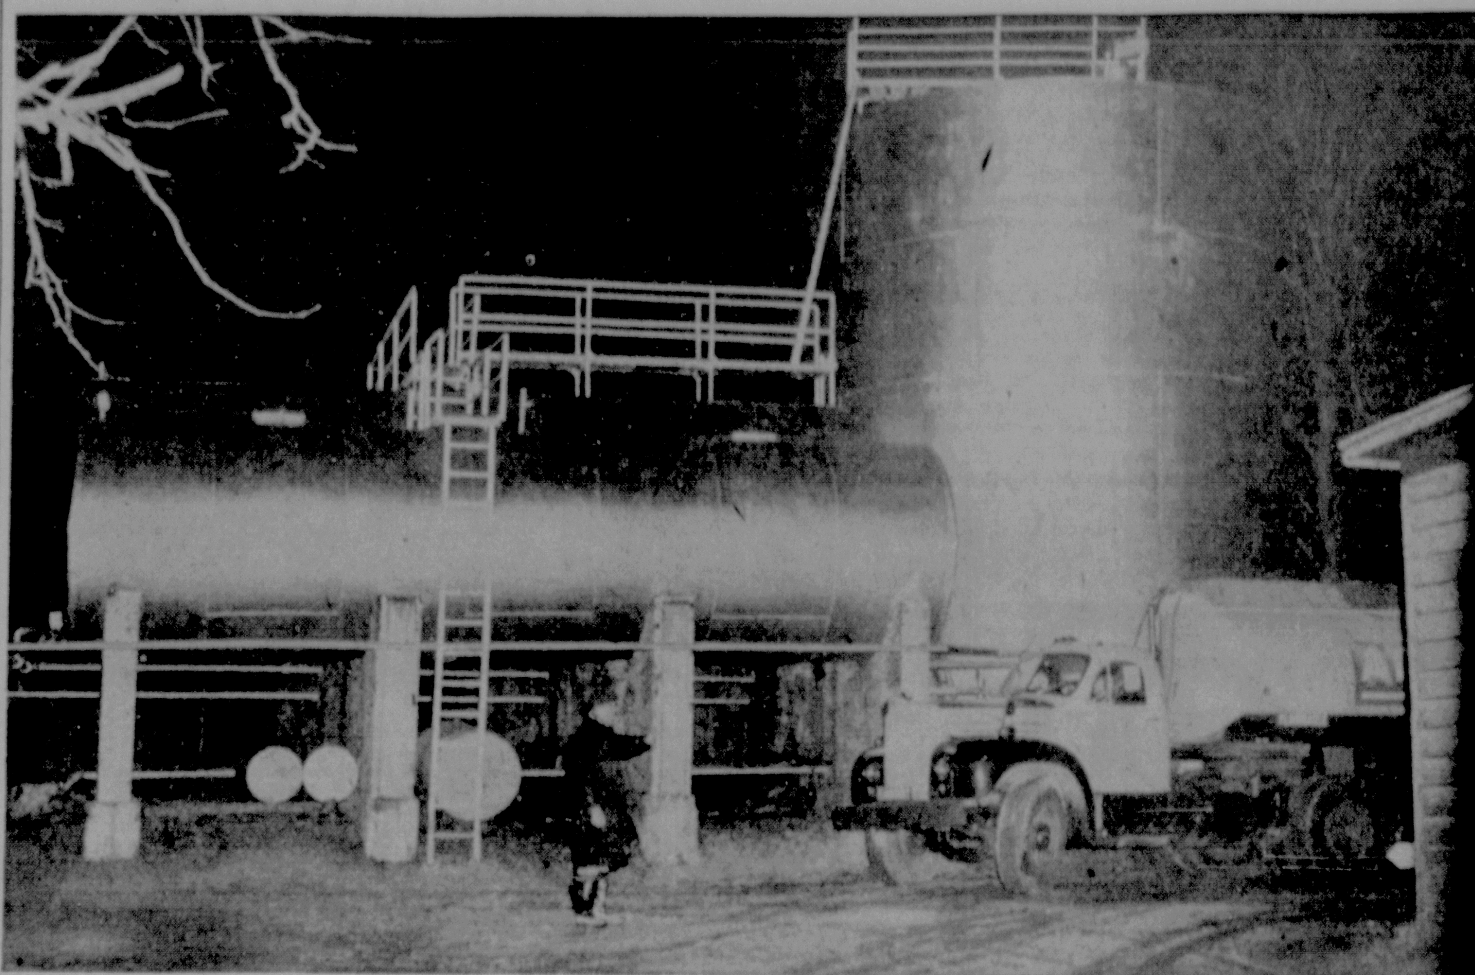

Supporters of the rally hailed it in advance as a new demonstration of strength for Castro, but others called it an open sign of weakness.

A TOTAL of 9,653 Christmas Seal letters will be delivered to Monroe County homes today, approximately 250 less than were mailed a year ago.

This 54th Christmas Seal campaign is sponsored locally by the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society, which each year seeks funds for its activities through the sale of seals.

The sale, only source of revenue for the society, helps finance X-ray examinations, tuberculosis testing and education of the public on the subject of the disease.

This year's seal, which shows carol singers, was designed by Philip Richard Costigan of Lenhartsville, near Hamburg.

Stevan Dohanos, distinguished artist and illustrator, has accepted the national honorary chairmanship of the drive.

Dohanos, who designed the 1941 Christmas Seal, is himself a recovered tuberculosis patient.

A younger brother, Bert, a younger sister, Irene, and one of his wife's brothers died of the disease.

Quick Responses Avert Disaster At Local Plant

QUICK action taken yesterday at 2:25 a.m. by a gasoline transport driver, a night watchman, Stroudsburg police and the Stroudsburg Fire Department prevented what could have been a disastrous fire at the Stiff Oil Co. bulk plant on Second St.

The unidentified driver discovered the leak in the 18,000-gallon storage tank he had just completed filling with gasoline. He saw the fuel winding its way toward the Worthington Mower plant.

Running to the plant he told Arthur Stackhouse, of Snyder'sville, watchman on duty, what had happened. Stackhouse called the control center in Stroudsburg and the fire company was sent to the scene. No fire alarm was sounded.

Dangerous Operation
The firemen began spreading foamite to eliminate the gasoline fumes and then blocked off the entire area to prevent citizens from entering.

Trucks from the Atlantic Refining Co. in Allentown arrived and they were filled with gasoline from the tank. Chief Robert Phillips said this was also a dangerous operation as the fumes could have been set off from the exhaust of the trucks.

Firemen sprayed more foamite under the trucks as they were moved from the scene as a preventative measure to keep the exhaust from setting off the fumes and gasoline.

Some of the gasoline that had leaked from the storage tank had run on the Worthington property and firemen laid foamite over the area to prevent fire there.

From the time the firemen arrived at the scene at 2:25 a.m., until they left at 7:30 a.m., they had applied more than 125 gallons of chemicals. They had also laid lines to fight the fire had it started.

Chief Phillips said, "The silent alarm worked out very well. I was notified by the Stroudsburg police and the pre-arranged plan of placing telephone calls to firemen brought men to the fire house."

"We were able to have firemen report to a fire without a fire signal being sounded. This plan will continue to operate in the future when the possibility of personal harm can come to anyone who comes to the scene of the fire to watch the firemen," he continued.

Bruce Miller, owner of the oil company, said that the repair crew from Allentown would be here today to make the necessary repairs to the storage tank and that it would be refilled again.

He has several trucks standing by to deliver his customers' needs until the repairs are made to the tanks, he added.

Advocates U. N. Admit Red China

NEW YORK (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas Sunday advocated admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

He called Red China "an obstreperous, aggressive nation," but said "cold practicalities make admission necessary."

Mainland China has "nearly a fourth of the people of the world" and "apparently more than a transitory government," he said.

reasons why

the Daily Newspaper gives you more for your advertising dollar

1. Newspaper advertising reaches more people than any other medium. 88% of the nation's families get a newspaper every day. Over 100 million people, 82% of all people 12 years of age and over, read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these people has the opportunity to see every ad in the daily newspaper. Only a small number of these people could be reached with any TV, radio or magazine ad.

2. People like advertising in newspapers better than in any other medium. People feel friendly toward advertising in newspapers. Surveys show that far fewer people want advertising in other media. An advertiser wants his customers to like him, so it stands to reason he will benefit if he runs his ads where they please instead of annoy people.

3. Newspapers deliver more "ready to buy" prospects than any other medium. Newspapers offer something for everybody—information, entertainment, editorials, advertising. And the reader is attracted to the ad that interests him. This means that readership ratings on ads represent live prospects for the advertiser. These people are easy to sell because they have a product interest. On the other hand broadcast ratings indicate people with an interest in the program, not necessarily a buying interest in the product.

4. Newspaper advertising gets more action than any other medium. As a news medium, the daily newspaper gives advertising an atmosphere of action and believability. People have confidence in and believe in newspapers. This prompts action on the part of the reader.

5. Newspaper advertising offers more local selling flexibility than any other medium. Advertisers can use newspapers market-by-market—to protect strong markets, to bolster weak markets, to vary advertising where potential varies, to meet competitive attacks, to get better timing with their sales and merchandising programs than is possible in any other medium.

6. Newspapers give more flexibility in selling copy than any other medium. An advertiser can tell his story in the size that suits his needs. He can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed copy story, or he can tell his story in the same or smaller space with just a few words. He can run a 100-line or a 1,000-line ad, depending on his budget and strategy. A newspaper offers advertisers more physical and creative flexibility than any other medium.

7. Newspaper advertising offers better retail merchandising than any other advertising. Four million U. S. retailers invest about 2½ billion dollars in the daily newspaper—more than they spend in all other media combined. No other medium has as close a relationship with retailers as the daily newspaper.

8. Newspaper advertising is a safer and surer investment than advertising in any other medium. In some media a good percentage of the results are affected by the variables of the medium, and by the medium's own competition. In newspapers, the advertising stands on its own feet, unaffected by such variables. Newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and pleasure of the consumer. The daily newspaper is always selling.

9. Newspaper advertising produces more sales per dollar of advertising cost than do other media. The cost of an advertising medium depends on a combination of two things: First, how much it costs to reach a person with a sales story. Second, what action that sales story causes the person to take—or, how much it costs to make a sale. The best figures available indicate that the newspaper delivers a message to a person for a typical advertiser at a cost at least as low as the cost of delivering the message through television or magazines. And the other eight points guarantee more sales action per message delivered.

U. S. Seizes $400,000 In Art Objects

NEW YORK (AP)—The Treasury Department disclosed Sunday it has seized more than $400,000 worth of Chinese art objects that were smuggled into the country from Red China.

The department said two dealers, Frank Caro of New York and Charles L. Doue of Berkeley, Calif., cooperated with the government in an investigation which began three months ago.

Among the objects seized were a 12th century "birds and flowers" scroll worth $25,000; a bronze turtle, said to date from the sixth century B.C. and valued at $50,000; and a silk screen painted by the Emperor Huiy Tsung in the 13th century, worth $65,000.

The scroll, the Treasury spokesman said, had been sold to the Boston Museum, while other smuggled objects were found in the Cleveland Museum and the Freer Gallery in Washington, D.C.

Trade Forbidden
The government got on to the smuggling operation, he said, when agents learned that a millionaire Hong Kong dealer and collector, J.D. Chen, had been dealing with persons in this country.

Trade with Communist China has been forbidden since 1950 under a provision of the Trading With the Enemy Act.

Learning that Chen was dealing with Caro, agents followed Caro aboard a plane flight from California to New York and questioned him aboard the plane. They said Caro told them he had not been connected with the smuggling.

The seizures were disclosed by E.E. Minskoff, chief of the Treasury Department's foreign assets control division. He did not say how the art treasures got to Hong Kong.

He said art objects worth an estimated $282,000 were seized at the galleries of the C.T. Loo Co. here, which is owned by Caro. The gallery was sealed after the seizures Saturday night.

Objects worth $75,000 were confiscated in the San Francisco area, and others worth $66,000 in the Los Angeles area, Minskoff said.

A man named Yang was arrested in Los Angeles and charged with trading with the enemy after the bronze turtle and Chinese screens were found in a bank vault under his name.

No charges have been made so far against the two dealers.

Purdue Team Plane Crash Lands Safely

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A two-engine plane carrying members of the Purdue University football team made a safe emergency landing at Truxal Air Force Base Saturday night with one engine dead.

The DC3 was en route to West Lafayette, Ind., from Minneapolis where Purdue upset Minnesota 23-14, when the plane developed trouble about 50 miles northwest of Madison. Twenty-five passengers were aboard, including many of the team members, Coach Jack Mollenkopf, newspapermen and university officials.

Harold Tietjen, the pilot, of Lafayette, Ind., turned off the engine and headed for the air base here.

"The first thing we thought about was that California Poly crash two weeks ago," said full-back Willie Jones, 21. He referred to the crash at Toledo in which 16 members of the California Poly-technical team and six other persons died.

Jones said everybody stayed pretty calm but several were "shook up" when the stewardess explained how the emergency doors opened.

The plane landed without incident at 7 p.m. and the passengers left at 10 p.m. on another plane flown here from West Lafayette.

Fewer Births, Deaths Reported Through June

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG — Births in Monroe County are on the decline, a report by the State Department of Health revealed yesterday.

A county-by-county compilation of births and deaths just completed by the department shows the number of births in Monroe County in the first six months of 1960 totaled 356 as compared with 387 births in the county during the same period last year.

Current birth rate for the county stands at 18.0 per 1000 population—down from a rate of 19.6 a year earlier.

Deaths inched downward from 207 during the first six months in 1959 to 204 during the current half-year period, dropping the death rate for the county to 10.3 per 1000 population.

Leading cause of death in Monroe County for the period was heart disease—which took the lives of 78 county residents (66 during the same period last year).

Other top causes of death in the county, during the six-month period, excluding accidents and mechanical causes: cancer, 30 deaths (32 in 1959); cerebral hemorrhage, 29 (36); pneumonia and influenza, 12 (nine); diabetes, eight (five); general arteriosclerosis, five (five); and nephritis, two (five).

Spectacular Show Put On Here By Northern Lights

A SPECTACULAR show appeared in the sky on Saturday night as the aurora borealis—Northern lights—performed at several intervals over a period of several hours. The lights covered this area as well as much of Eastern part of the country.

A big red glow caused by the lights created the biggest sensation for people who had the good fortune to witness the display.

For others, who may have been watching a show of their own on television it was a performance that might have disrupted their reception.

The phenomenon became visible around 7:30 p.m. when varicolored lights illuminated the heavens. The standout was a bellowing red glow in the northern sky.

At the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport weather bureau, it was explained that the impression of movement was given by increasing and fading of the light. By about 8:30 most of the lights had faded from view. They flared anew several times during the night, however, but not with the great performance of the first showing.

The Northern lights diagnosis of the glow was later borne out by the weather bureau office in New York which reported them across the northern horizon. It reported that the so-called Northern lights originate in the Arctic region and shoot off fan-shaped streams of light, sometimes in a variety of colors.

The reddish glow also appeared in southern part of the country. A. C. Jenzono, director of the Morehead Planetarium at the University of North Carolina said it was a spectacular display in that section.

Poster Child Named For Polio Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Linda Gail Breese, 4, was named Sunday as the 1961 March of Dimes national poster child.

Linda was born with an open spine and excess fluid on the brain. Her selection was announced by Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation, parent body of the new March of Dimes.

Linda underwent surgery to close her spine when she was less than a day old. The operation was performed at Children's Hospital here where the National Foundation established the nation's first birth defects study center a few months ago.

Wears Tube

When nine months old, Linda again underwent surgery, for excess fluid on the brain, and today she wears a shunt tube to drain off this fluid. Linda uses crutches but has been able to discard her leg braces.

Next January, when the March of Dimes campaign will be held throughout the nation, Linda probably will feel she is facing mirrors everywhere she travels. Millions of posters will bear her likeness. Drawings and photographs of her will be published in thousands of newspapers and magazines.

The blonde, blue-eyed girl also will appear on network television. Linda's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean E. Breese of suburban Upper Arlington. Her father is an industrial engineer. She has a sister, Susan, 14, and two brothers, Ronnie, 12, a victim of cerebral palsy, and Terry, 6.

Deer Being Killed By B-B, Bird Shots

A MENACE of the meanest type has been slowly but continuously attacking the deer herd in Monroe County, a game official declared last night.

Distriet Game Protector John Doebling said that since the beginning of small game season, eight deer—both male and female—have been found dead in the surrounding areas. All had been suffering from "bird shot" or from B-B shots, the types of shot which many believe not harmful to the deer.

These deer were evidently shot by small game hunters or by non-hunters who got a kick out of inflicting "small" wounds in a deer.

Doebling said this type of attack, augmented by traffic accidents, has resulted in a large "kill" of the herd.

Doebling said that some misguided small game hunters don't believe that small shots would hurt the deer. But in most cases where the deer was shot, the animals die a short time later or suffer a lingering death.

He reported that in other years, after the buck season was over, a number of deer had suffered gangrene under the skin as a result of these fine game shots.

"These deer were wasted," he said. The deer are of no value after they had been shot nor are they good for human consumption.

Another menace just as alarming is the motorist. Doebling reported that from Nov. 5 until yesterday, 16 deer had been killed by autos. Most of the kill was in the southern half of the county.

"The motorists are cautioned to drive carefully," Doebling said.

He disclosed how every year about 10,000 deer are hit by cars in Pennsylvania, with the average damage to each car reaching $150. The overall total comes to an amazing $1,500,000 in damage, he stated.

Doebling warned of the impending penalty if anyone is apprehended inflicting small game shots on deer. The person is liable to a $100 fine, and if he is a hunter, will lose his license for at least three years.

Just Between Us —

If I'd wait a minute, half of my lectures, both oral and written, would be completely unnecessary. Either it is a failing that is growing on me or else I just never noticed before how often I do it.

"Why don't you—" I begin brightly with some motherly advice only to discover either that they already have or else have taken care of it in a much better way.

On Saturday I pontificate on the fact that modern life seems to tend to separate families and generations, and Saturday night I'm invited to an open house in Lansdowne by Nancy and her friends where more than 100 people of all ages and interests got together. All right, they were mostly much younger but the idea was there.

Then Sunday I got home to find all sorts of getting-togethers, not only at grade school PTA's but in the YMCA Aux. entertaining the high school girls in the junior and senior classes at what sounds like a fun party.

And speaking of fun, it sounded as if I'd missed some excitement at home, too. Kids on a hayride in Cherry Lane met the Pocono fire trucks out looking for a non-existent fire reported by a woman who had seen the red glare reflected from the Northern Lights. Sort of hard to put out even for our firemen, trained for every emergency.

I guess maybe it's good they are, too, with that gas storage leak over on Second St. Saturday night, with everybody well around until all hours. Well, there's plenty of excitement left over for this week, I must say.

The calendar stretches from here to there with everything from the visit of the Supreme President of the Lady Reindeer to the first meeting of the Wahines of the Poconos for hula practice.

Maybe if I stick to reporting what other people are doing instead of suggesting how they could do it better we'd get along faster, do you suppose?

HOME LAUNDERING becomes as free and easy as a breeze with 1961 automatic washer and dryer shown here. Frigidaire designed this new equipment to launder everything, from wedding gowns to heavily soiled work clothes, automatically. Gentle but effective somersault washing action of unique three-ring pump agitator is safe for delicate fabrics. Baby clothes and diapers and the like can be soaked, then thoroughly washed, rinsed and spin-dried—all by simple control setting. New no-vent dryer which does not require outside venting or plumbing will handle silks, cottons, wash-and-wear and the like without the homemaker's attention. Dryer will even sprinkle clothes and get them ready for ironing. See the complete line of Frigidaire home laundries now at A. B. Wyckoff's Department Store in Stroudsburg.

Frigidaire Gives Tips To Make Washing Easier

A. B. WYCKOFF Department store offer these tips on how to launder clothes properly with the help of the amazing 1961 Frigidaire home laundry.

Always follow these basic rules for good washing, suggests Miss Mary Huck, Frigidaire's home economics director: (1) sort out such "lint makers" as diapers, cotton flannels and the like when washing sheets or shirts; (2) load loosely and don't overload the washer; (3) for white and color fast fabrics, wash with hot water, 140 to 160 degrees, much hotter than your hand can stand; (4) use an adequate amount of detergent, and (5) avoid washing too long.

Old stains on napkins and tea towels usually can be removed by soaking in a warm mild bleach solution, then washing.

If greasy, heavily soiled work clothes and the children's grimy play clothes are your laundry room nemesis, then Miss Mary Huck, Frigidaire's home economics director, has this suggestion.

To loosen dirt and soil while soaking, add one-half cup of household ammonia to the water along with detergent. Some washers of advanced design will take over from here, stand; (4) use an adequate washing, rinsing and spin-drying the clothes.

When washing synthetic fabrics in today's automatics, make sure you set the machine for a cold rinse. This eliminates wrinkles. Warm water softens the fibers and wrinkles will form during the spin-drying operation.

If water in your locality has iron in it and chlorine bleach is used, brown or yellow stains may result. When bleach is to be used, first add a water conditioner to the wash. The water conditioner holds the iron particles in suspension, eliminating the stains.

If those new plastic flowers seem dull and soiled, brighten them up in your automatic washer, suggests Miss Mary Huck, Frigidaire home economics director. Use the "delicate" cycle with slow agitation and spin, short wash time and cold water wash and rise.

At end of the cycle lift out your flowers and rearrange them. Small droplets of water on the petals and leaves resemble the droplets of early morning dew.

Garments from storage with moth-ball odor can be freshened up and made sweet-smelling by tumbling in the dryer on no-heat setting for a few minutes.

When garments are stained by fresh fruits here are cleaning suggestions by Miss Mary Huck, Frigidaire's director of home economics.

For cottons or linens, pour boiling water through the stain or soak in warm water. Wash garment, then treat remaining stain by bleaching. If garment is silk, wool, rayon, nylon or other man-made fabric, sponge the stain with warm water, then wash. Treat any remaining stain with mild powder bleach.

Bathroom rugs, draperies and the like can be freshened, fluffed and made dust-free by a trip through the dryer using the "no-heat" cycle, Frigidaire home economists suggest.

Barber Learned To Cut Hair Standing On Box

By JAMES SHAFER

WORKING at any job for 50 years or more is in itself quite a feat, but to continue is even better and that is just what Harry Janson, of Tannersville has done.

Janson began his work in October, 1910, as a barber in his father's shop in Philadelphia when he was nine years old.

"The first thing I was taught was dusting the shaving cups and cleaning up the floor. As the year went by my father started me in lathering for shaves and combing the hair when he completed cutting it," Janson said.

"When I started to cut hair the following year I had to stand on a box so I could reach the top of the customer's head. I had that box until the flood of 1955 and in the cleaning up process the box left with some of the other articles that had to be thrown away," he continued.

Janson remembered that when he first started to cut hair the light furnished to do the job came from several oil lamps.

They later were replaced by the gas lights and finally the electric light.

Old Mugs

He recalled that each of his father's customers like any other barber's customers, had his own shaving mug and bottle of tonic. These were kept in the barber shop and used only by the owners when they came for a haircut or a shave. Most of the customers at that time also owned their own razor which like the mug and tonic was kept in the barber shop.

"Another thing we had in the shop that I recall was the old mustache cup. This was a small piece of glass that was placed over the customer's mustache so none of it would be cut off by mistake. I doubt if there are many of those around today," Janson added.

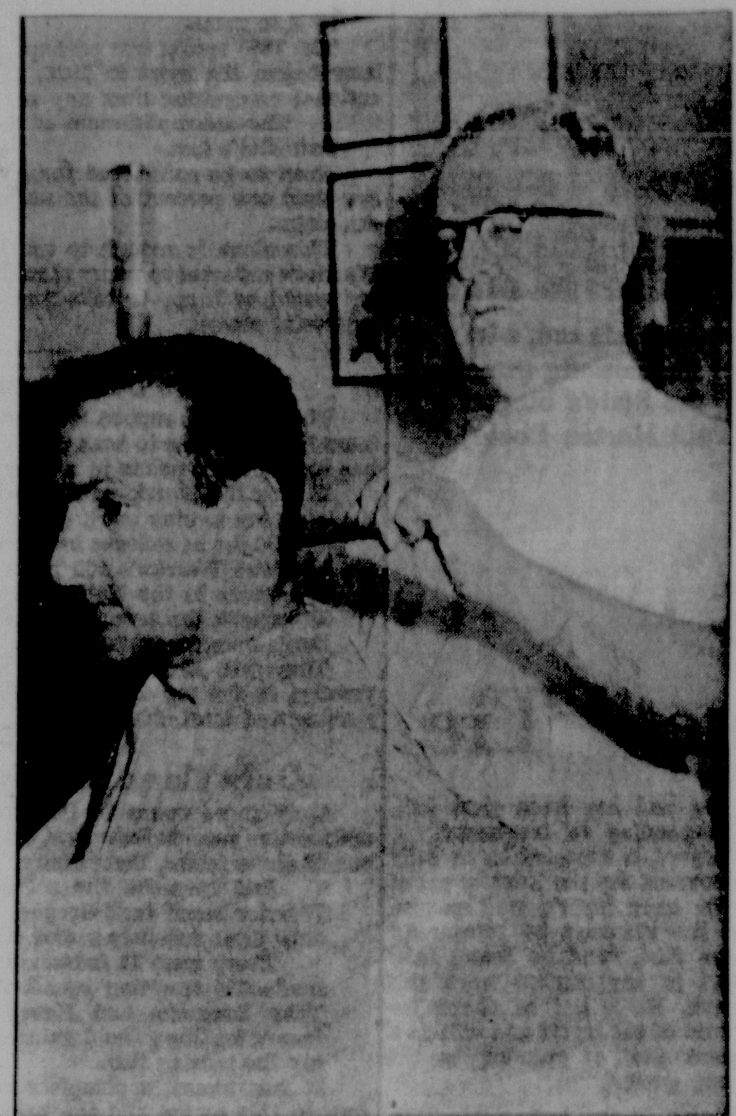

In the time when Janson started to cut hair the barber not only gave shaves and haircuts but he dyed mustaches and used a leech to "remedy" blackeyes. Janson moved to Tannersville from Philadelphia in 1945 and opened a two chair shop. The shop is at the same location, the only thing different is that he has made it into a more modern shop than when he started 15 years ago.

He remains active in the community affairs of Tannersville and is a member of the Pocono Township Fire Company, Central Pocono Ambulance Assn. and Lutheran Church in Tannersville.

When asked if he had any plans for retirement he said, "I enjoy my work and as long as I remain in good health my intentions are to keep my scissors snapping."

ON JOB OVER 50 YEARS—Harry Janson of Tannersville is still cutting hair after having completed more than a half a century at the trade. Seated in the chair is Robert Storm, Stroudsburg RD.

Co-op Dairy Elects Two As Directors

AT THE annual membership meeting of the Monroe County Co-op Dairy held at the plant at Brodheadsville, A. W. Martin, Effort, and Richard Deihl, Brodheadsville, were elected as directors for a three-year term.

Martin has been a director and secretary of the association for the past 15 years.

Deihl was elected to replace Norman Beers of Palmerton RD, who did not seek re-election.

Austin T. Blakeslee, president, gave a report on the progress made since a year ago. This included the addition of a laboratory, drivers' meeting room, office space and storage for paper containers.

General Manager Griffith reported on the amount of money the dairy spent in the Monroe County area. This included approximately $305,000 for payroll and supplies, $13,500 for utilities, and $440,958.74 distributed to the farmers.

A report was also given on the progress of the Palmetton Sanitary Dairy Division of the Monroe County Co-op Dairy; on the Panther Valley Dairy, Coal-dale, and the Maple Farms Dairy, Elmhurst, who are having milk and other dairy products custom-bottled by the association.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Faces Murder Charge, Free

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Diane Kehler, 18, of Phoenixville, indicted Thursday by the Montgomery County Grand Jury on an open charge of murder, remains free in jail.

Judge David Groshens continued the bail at $3,000 after the grand jury acted in the death Oct. 9 of Albert Kehler, 51. Police quoted him as saying before his death in Pottstown Memorial Hospital that his daughter shot him intentionally.

She maintains she was trying to take a shotgun from him and it discharged accidentally. The shooting occurred in his home June 20.

The district attorney will decide whether to try her for murder. Under the indictment he has the option of prosecuting her for manslaughter.

Young Couple Accused Of Killing Guard

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—One of Britain's biggest manhunt ended in a quiet Scottish hotel Sunday with the arrest of a teen-age brunette and her boy friend — both wanted by police investigating the killing of a bank guard in southern England.

A white-haired lady of 72 turned them in.

Detectives charged Victory Terry, 20, with murder and Valerie Saller, 18, with receiving stolen money.

Then police forces throughout Britain went back to normal and locked away their guns.

The young fugitives were arrested 450 miles from the south coast resort of Worthing where the guard, Henry John Pull, 61, was shot down in a $2,800 bank holdup last Thursday.

Two Arrested

Soon after the shooting police arrested two youths, 20 and 16, and charged them with murdering Pull. At the same time, Scotland Yard ordered a dragnet throughout the nation for Terry and his girl friend.

Fearing possible new violence, the Yard told police to arm themselves for the search—a rare step in Britain where detectives ordinarily get their man without guns. Pictures of Valerie, a schoolgirl swimming champion, were flashed on television screens and printed on front pages.

Here in Glasgow, Miss Eunice Walker, white-haired proprietress of the Lyndoch private hotel, saw the photographs and began wondering.

She remembered the couple who booked in Saturday morning and were shown to room 12.

She went to the police. Detectives raced to the hotel and marched in on the couple. They were in bed and put up no resistance.

Militia May Keep Castro In Power

HAVANA (AP)—The massive people's militia Fidel Castro is building to defend Cuba against "imperialist aggression" may some day be his main political strength.

Castro's 26th of July Movement, the organization which originally sponsored his successful revolution against dictator Fulgencio Batista, has almost disappeared, except for propaganda purposes.

Its once well-organized provincial and municipal headquarters have become almost shadows, with many key personnel defected or disenchanted with the course of the Castro regime.

So it appears to many here that Castro, if he needs political as well as military support to keep his leftist-oriented regime in power, may turn to his militiamen and their feminine counterparts for ballots as well as bullets.

There are many who say the people's militia may soon reach a strength of 500,000 men and women, armed not only with modern weapons from the Soviet bloc and Belgium but with a fanatic loyalty to Fidel Castro.

"If Castro calls for elections in the future—though there are no indications now that he intends to do so—a well organized and well disciplined militia could well be expected to vote in mass for him or the candidates he endorses," said one expert on Cuban politics and history.

"And a block of half a million votes could easily swing any election in his favor."

There is one snare in this idea. Many of Castro's most powerful industrial and financial organizations and the militia units created within them, are led by dedicated Communists who in case of an election might find their loyalty stretched between Fidel Castro on the one hand and the Communist party candidates on the other.

The militia organization, once rejected by Fidel Castro as unnecessary, then created at the height of his hate campaign against the United States, has become a powerful force in persuading uncertain Cubans to fall into line.

There are many reports of factory or office workers in Cuba who were told to join Castro's new militia—or lose their jobs.

A similar warning was distributed to employees of Havana University, long famed for its autonomy from Cuban political regimes.

"The situation has reached the point in many work centers that no man dares refuse to enroll in the militia and hope to keep his job," said one source.

Despite these criticisms Castro appears to be well on his way to molding his workers into a unified force.

And A Field Goal Record

Six Clinch Conference Grid Titles Saturday

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE CHAMPIONS: Washington, VMI, Rutgers, Ohio University, Connecticut and Massachusetts (Tied) Ed Dwyer and Purdue.

Dyas, Auburn's radar-toed full-back, rates a place on this select list because of his record-breaking field goal feats. Purdue gets in as the unquestioned upset champ.

Sure of at least a tie: Yale, Iowa, Duke, Utah State.

Almost in: Missouri, Mississippi, Arkansas.

Definitely bowl bound: Florida, Washington.

The nation's No. 1 team: Who knows? It could be Missouri, No. 2 last week, or Mississippi, No. 4. The No. 1 and 3 teams, Minnesota and Ohio State, were beaten Saturday.

Four Upbeats
That's the situation in college football as it heads into the final stages of the season with only four teams still on the unbeaten and untied list.

Washington clinched the Big Five championship and presumably the Rose Bowl bid when it shipped California 27-7 for a fourth straight conference victory. The invitation won't be issued formally for another week.

Virginia Military earned the Southern Conference title with a 20-6 decision over its closest rival, The Citadel. Rutgers took the honors in the loosely organized Middle Atlantic Conference; Ohio U. winning its ninth straight game, turned back previously un-

Rose Question

It still is a big question who will be invited to oppose Washington in the Rose Bowl. A clearcut Big Ten champion would get top consideration, but wouldn't be required to accept.

Iowa, upset by Minnesota a week ago, came back with a vengeance and trounced Ohio State 35-12. Minnesota was the 23-14 victim of the second big upset perpetrated by Purdue this season.

The Boilermakers, who have won only three games, previously had knocked out Ohio State.

Iowa has completed its Big Ten chores and winds up against Notre Dame Saturday. Minnesota has a final conference game against Wisconsin and could tie the Hawkeyes at 5-1 in the standings.

Dear Abby

No, But There Are Limits

Dear Abby: Should brothers and sisters tell their parents when one or the other does something wrong? Is this being a "tattle-tale" or is it the duty of a child to report wrongdoing to his parents? Should parents expect their children to police one another's conduct? I have asked this question of many people and no one has come up with an answer that satisfies me. I'd like to see this in print. Perhaps others have pondered the same question.

PUZZLED GRANDMA
Dear Puzzled: Parents should neither expect nor encourage their children to "inform" on one another, but it depends entirely on the nature of the "crime." Is Junior swiping cookies? Or is he smoking opium?

Dear Abby: My husband is a perfect gentleman. When he takes me to our club dance, he always asks me for the first dance. Then he disappears and I don't see him again all evening. Once I went looking for him and I found him outside playing hopscotch with a young woman. (She was a school teacher and had chalk in her purse.) Another time he put on the waitress' cap and apron and helped serve drinks. He loves to be the life of the party, but he will be the death of me! Now how do you handle a man like that?

UP A TREE
Dear Up: With kid gloves. He's priceless!

Dear Abby: Our 19-year-old son gave his girl (18) an engagement ring before he went to Korea four months ago. His father and I let them talk us into it, although we thought they were both too young.

We heard that this girl was running around on our boy, but we didn't write to him about it. Yesterday she brought his ring over and asked me to send it back to him as she didn't want to be "tied down."

Should I send him the ring? His father says we should keep it quiet until he comes home. What would you do?

HURT MOM
Dear Mom: Don't send the ring. In my book there is no one lower than a girl who would break an engagement this way. The very least a sweetheart's "sweetheart" can do is to wait until Johnny comes marching home again. But if she's running around, your son might learn it in a letter from someone else, so insist that the girl herself write him and set the record straight.

Dear Abby: After reading the letter from "Liar's Wife," who for years was unknowingly "the other woman," I would like to offer what I hope will be some consolation. Cheer up, Honey, you can't be married to the world's biggest liar — because I am!

"DAISY FROM HUNTSVILLE"

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers all letters.

Eve. 7-9

'Twas the Month Before Christmas...

... and all through the house... plans were being made for holiday trips.

"Where Is My Pink Skirt?"
"Is My Tan Shirt Lost?"
"What Happened To My Favorite Suit?"
"Where Are My Sweaters?"

... is the theme heard most by Mom. Happy is she who can point with pride to those garments, freshly cleaned and pressed by Keiper's—hanging neatly away where no one could ever think of looking!
